State Assistance
Program Summary 2003

as enduring as land as sustaining as water

I am pleased to share this summary of the Land and Water Conservation Fund's State Assistance Program for Fiscal Year 2003. Like land, the Fund's legacy is enduring: it supports and safeguards our nation's state and local recreational infrastructure — state parks, local baseball diamonds, greenway trails, soccer fields, boating access, and much more. Like water, the Fund is a sustaining element for healthy communities: behind every project site in this year's list — more than 600 nationally — is a unique story about how the Fund responds directly to America's basic recreation needs.

We know that communities will always need places to play, to renew their spirit, and to reconnect. For that reason we are honored to be entrusted with the Fund's stewardship. The National Park Service is responsible for protecting the integrity and recreational value of all state and local parks, lakes, trails, beaches, and conservation lands assisted by the Fund. Every project — our cumulative list is now approaching 40,000 — supported by the Land and Water Conservation Fund must be maintained for recreation use in perpetuity.

National Park Service

the land and water conservation fund is a visionary program which was established by Congress to protect important natural areas and provide outdoor recreation opportunities for all Americans.

In a landmark study more than forty years ago, the Outdoor Recreation Resources Review Commission championed the vital connection between local recreation facilities and public health, the same connection prevalent in today’s prescriptions for creating healthy communities. Although the Land and Water Conservation Fund’s specific mandate is recreational facility development and resource protection, its broader goal is “to strengthen the health and vitality of the citizens of the United States (Public Law 88-578).”

project highlights

Bismarck Park District Acquisition, North Dakota

Acquisition of 50 acres of land in northeast Bismarck will allow the Park District to advance several recreation initiatives, including a driving range for Pebble Creek Golf Course, softball/baseball and soccer fields, playgrounds and recreation trails.

Chase Sports Fields, Idaho

A new recreation complex will help the Post Falls community accommodate its growing participation in organized soccer, baseball, and softball. When completed, the park will also provide picnic areas and open space for neighborhood residents.

Helping States Meet Recreation Goals

In addition to providing grants for recreation and open space, the Land and Water Conservation Fund also provides assistance to help States plan for meeting their outdoor recreation needs. The result is a statewide comprehensive outdoor recreation plan (SCORP) document which is used to identify, prioritize, and establish criteria for selection of individual projects. The SCORP ensures a tangible connection between individual projects and the state’s overall outdoor recreation goals and is a requirement of the LWCF Act of 1965.

Office of Management and Budget Review

During 2003, the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) evaluated the performance of the LWCF State Assistance Program as part of a government-wide review of all Federal programs over a five-year period. In its assessment of the Program's purpose, national relevance and delivery, the review was generally positive. However, OMB found room for improvement, particularly in the areas of strategic planning, collecting information on best practices, and measuring performance. The key conclusion reached by OMB was that the Program lacks appropriate performance measures and thus cannot adequately demonstrate that results are being achieved.

In response to OMB's recommendations, and while continuing to assist States and local governments to build and restore parks and recreation facilities, acquire recreational open space, and plan for future recreation needs, Program managers have initiated consultation with State partners to respond to the review findings and develop appropriate performance measures with October 1, 2004 as the target for initial implementation.

Dutton Island Intracoastal Waterway Park, Florida

Jacksonville's newest 100-acre park along the eastern shore of the Atlantic Intracoastal Waterway will offer "close-to-home" open space, waterfront recreation and archaeological exhibits. Park enhancements include a walking trail to the Waterway and salt marsh, interpretive signage, picnic and restroom facilities, and a canoe landing. Dutton Island is a key link in Jacksonville's Blueway, a water trail network which provides canoeists and kayakers access to the Timucuan Ecological and Historical Preserve and the Nassau-St. John's River Marshes Aquatic Preserve.

Great Allegheny Passage (Big Savage Tunnel), Pennsylvania

Crown jewel of the Mid-Atlantic recreation trails, the Great Allegheny Passage will connect Pittsburgh to Washington, D.C via the C&O Towpath creating a combined 400 mile route. Rehabilitation of the Big Savage Tunnel, supported by a $2 million grant from the Land and Water Conservation Fund is essential to forging this connection. Built in 1911, the impressive 3,300-foot Big Savage Tunnel is scheduled to open for cyclists and pedestrians in 2004.

"By far the biggest project on the 202 miles of the Great Allegheny Passage, it was potentially a show stopper in completing the link between Pennsylvania and Maryland. We're very grateful to the National Park Service and the Land and Water Conservation Fund."

— Congressman John Murtha, Pennsylvania

Heritage Park, Utah

Promoting community health and protecting local open space are the key objectives in creating this close-to-home park for children and elderly residents in Farmington. The park will feature a group picnic shelter, playgrounds, a fitness trail, and large areas of open space for passive recreation.

Long Path Trail Corridor Acquisition, New York

A long-distance trail of statewide significance, the 375-mile Long Path begins at the George Washington Bridge and ends near Altamont. Acquisition of the Ginseng Mountain corridor in Greene County was the first step in the Long Path’s extension north from the Catskills into Mohawk River Valley and the Adirondacks. The first segment of the Huntersfield Ridge-Ginseng Mountain Long Path corridor, this 400-acre acquisition offers spectacular ridge-top hiking.

“Expanding opportunities for the public to enjoy New York State’s magnificent lands and forests is a critical part of our long-term environmental strategy. These acquisitions allow outdoor enthusiasts to explore new parts of the Catskills, gaining a deeper appreciation of our state’s vast environmental treasures and a broadened understanding of the importance of conserving our natural resources.”

~ Governor George Pataki

Matagorda Bay Park & Preserve, Texas

Located on the Matagorda Peninsula at the mouth of the Colorado River, this project will be the third major park and preserve along the Colorado River Trail managed by the Lower Colorado River Authority. Development plans include an 1,100-acre conservation area, water and terrestrial trails, wildlife viewing platforms, boardwalk, fishing piers, pavilion, playground, and a pedestrian beach.

“Texans will have a tremendous new resource to enhance their use and appreciation of the Gulf Coast and Matagorda Bay. You can learn about the river and its ecology by hiking, canoeing, and soon, by sea kayak.”

– Joe Beal, General Manager, Lower Colorado River Authority
